

St. Joseph's General Hospital, Vegreville

Answering a call for help, the Sisters of Charity of Notre Dame d'Evron journeyed to Vegreville and opened a hospital in 1911. Throughout the years, they faced many challenges, including flooding, drought and influenza epidemics.

The resilience, compassion and holistic care for those in need continues today at St. Joseph's General Hospital, where staff offer the highest standard of acute and out-patient care.

Covenant family

The Covenant family contributes to the health and well-being of Albertans as three non-profit Catholic organizations rooted in a 156-year legacy of compassionate care and service in the province. At the heart of Catholic health care is a profound respect for the intrinsic value and dignity of every human being and an unwavering commitment to serving all people — from all backgrounds, faiths and circumstances — especially society's most vulnerable.

As sibling organizations, the three separate entities share the values and mission of the congregations of Sisters who founded health care in Alberta. As leaders and innovators in their fields, each organization contributes to a strategic plan to be of greater service and to transform the health care system and create vibrant communities of health and healing.
