Banff Mineral Springs Hospital

Banff Mineral Springs Hospital was founded by the Sisters of St. Martha of Antigonish in 1930, and became part of the Covenant family on October 7, 2008.

Today, the hospital keeps the Sisters' legacy alive by providing compassionate care with the same determination and creativity. In 2002, the continuing care unit at Banff Mineral Springs was named St. Martha's Place in honour of its founding Sisters. Upholding quality of life for the 25 residents who call the unit home is of paramount importance to staff.

Banff Mineral Springs Hospital provides quality, responsive medical services, including emergency, EMS, specialized orthopedic and plastic surgery, continuing care and primary care to the local community and visitors from around the world.

Covenant family

The Covenant family contributes to the health and well-being of Albertans as three non-profit Catholic organizations rooted in a 156-year legacy of compassionate care and service in the province. At the heart of Catholic health care is a profound respect for the intrinsic value and dignity of every human being and an unwavering commitment to serving all people — from all backgrounds, faiths and circumstances — especially society's most vulnerable.

As sibling organizations, the three separate entities share the values and mission of the congregations of Sisters who founded health care in Alberta. As leaders and innovators in their fields, each organization contributes to a strategic plan to be of greater service and to transform the health care system and create vibrant communities of health and healing.
