COVENANT HEALTH SERVICES EXPAND TO CALGARY AND RED DEER

On January 25, the Government of Alberta announced a partnership with Covenant Health to pioneer a new model of care at new continuing care centres in Red Deer and Calgary.

"We are proud to be chosen by the Province to expand our services to Red Deer and Calgary as we continue our 150-year legacy and work toward our vision to meet the needs of those most vulnerable in communities across the province," said Patrick Dumelie, President and CEO. "We are grateful for this opportunity to pioneer new approaches focused on responding to residents' needs, maintaining connections to loved ones and community, and promoting quality of life in a home-like environment."

The Red Deer and Calgary facilities have been designed to be flexible and adaptable to multiple levels of care, spanning from supportive living to long-term care to specialized dementia care and palliative care.

The continuing care centres will be located in new residential neighbourhoods, so residents will remain connected to the community and the community is connected to the facility. There is also enough land for future expansion based on community needs.
